SCHOONER TO BE SEIZED.

THE SECRET ORDERS OF THE UNITED STATES STEAMSHIP ALLIANCE.

A vessel fitted out as a whaler suspected of being engaged in the slave trade. Claims ignored by the War Department.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—It is learned that the United States steamship Alliance, which left New York last under orders to join the South Atlantic Squadron at Rio Janeiro, by way of the Mediterranean and Cape of Good Hope, is under orders to seize the schooner Emma Jane, if found on the high seas, or demand her if she be found in a neutral port, to make prisoners of her captain and crew, put a prize crew on board, and send her to the United States with her plunder.

The Alliance is also ordered to seize, by force, if necessary, whatever belongings of the schooner that may be found on the Island of Johanna, one of the Comoro group, off the coast of Mozambique and Zanzibar. These orders have been issued because the government is informed that the Emma Jane, after having been fitted out by the United States as a whaler, was taken by her master to the Island of Johanna, contrary to orders of her owner, and sold to Dr. Wilson, a former naval officer, but now a wealthy planter on said island. It is charged that Dr. Wilson employed her to carry sugar, and it is suspected, has engaged her in slave trade.

Nothing has been received from the Alliance except that she reached the Island of Johanna, that her captain was well received, that Dr. Wilson assured him that he would do all in his power to assist him in his mission, and that the last he (Dr. Wilson) heard of the Emma Jane was that she was seized at Mauritius as unseaworthy some time ago. It does not appear that the Alliance has caught up with her.

CLAIM IGNORED BY THE WAR DEPARTMENT.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—The mandamus upon the secretary war, asked for by Sergeant McKinney, formerly of the Seventh cavalry, to compel Secretary Endicott to take executive action on a claim referred to him by the third auditor of the treasury, but which action the secretary refused to take. A law was passed March 3, 1885, to reimburse officers and men of the army for private property lost in service, but the law has never been executed and remains a dead letter statute. Secretary Endicott bases his refusal to act on the ground that the law is vague and indefinite, and must be amended by congress before action can be taken. A large number of claims under the act named are pending, but all are ignored by the war department officials.

THE NEW WESTERN NATIONAL BANK.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—The comptroller of the currency to-day authorized the Western National Bank of New York, to begin business with a capital of $3,500,000—Hon. Daniel Manning president, and ex-United States Treasurer Jordan, vice-president. Mr. Jordan left Washington for New York this afternoon, to assume control of the new bank, during Mr. Manning's absence. It is understood that as yet Mr. Jordan's successor as United States treasurer, has not been determined upon. It is expected, however, that the selection for the position will be made within the next few days. Mr. Hyatt, of Connecticut, who has been mentioned for the place, had quite a protracted interview with the president yesterday.

Hotel Men in Convention.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Hotel men from all parts of the country are arriving on every train to participate in the annual convention of the Hotel Men's Mutual Benevolent Association, which opens here to-morrow. A special car filled with visitors from Chicago came in with the "Pennsylvania" express this morning, and delegations from Cincinnati, Louisville, St. Louis and other points arrived a few hours after.

Our Consul General at Paris.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Prince Leopold, of Prussia, arrived this morning from Rochester, where he had a little job in the cars, and took room at the Albemarle hotel. The train was two hours late and the loyal Germans who got up early to meet him were somewhat impatient. He was accompanied by Baron Rosenegg and the Count of Kainitz. Mr. Jeasch, of the German legation at Washington, met the prince and escorted him to his apartments in the hotel. He speaks English fluently. In conversation with a United Press reporter he said he would remain in the city until Saturday and sail for England in the steamer Elder.

A Moulder's Co-Operative Foundry.

CHICAGO, May 10.—The three moulder's unions of this city are preparing to establish a co-operative foundry. Final arrangements will be made next Saturday night. The bakers' difficulties are now over; the bakers having practically conceded every point asked for. At the conference of committees representing both sides held yesterday afternoon it was decided that ten hours constitute a day's work; twelve hours Saturdays; six days a week's work, with extra pay for any work done the seventh day; and the other minor difficulties were satisfactorily arranged.

Another Record Smashed.

CHICAGO, May 10.—The propeller Tioga arrived here from Buffalo, having made the fastest trip on record between the two ports—sixty-three hours and a half. The fastest time previously made was by the propeller Jewell, about three years ago—sixty-five hours and forty-five minutes. The Tioga used about eighty tons of coal on the trip.

COMING BACK HOME.

CARDINAL GIBBONS TO RETURN TO AMERICA

on Account of His Poor Health.

BALTIMORE, May 10.—A clergymen in this city has just received a letter from Rome, in which it is stated that the health of Cardinal Gibbons has been greatly impaired by the numerous receptions and other ceremonies in which he has been constrained to participate while abroad. Besides this, the writer says that the climate has never agreed with the archbishop, and therefore he has concluded to return home as soon as possible. Another matter which causes the cardinal to hasten his return is the obligation made to Archbishop Cross, of Oregon, to confer upon him the pallium. This ceremony was to have been performed several months ago, but it was deferred when the cardinal was summoned to Rome. The question of the Knights of Labor and the church, the writer says, has nothing to do with the return of the cardinal, since all the necessary information on the subject could be obtained by cable or letter.

Preparations are making for a public reception to be tendered to the cardinal upon his arrival here. The various Catholic organizations will escort him from the depot to the cathedral, where a canonical reception will take place according to the Roman pontifical decreeing the manner of welcome to be observed on the return of a cardinal. Immediately after the cardinal's return one of the rooms in the archiepiscopal residence will be fitted up for the use of the pope should he ever visit this city. The vatican requires this of all cardinals. The furniture and hangings must be of red; in one corner of the room will be a throne with all necessary appurtenances. The room will be called the "papal quarters," and must not be used by the cardinal, since all the necessary information on the subject could be obtained by cable or letter.

PREPARATIONS FOR THE CARDINAL'S RECESSION.

NEW YORK, May 10.—The steamship Umbria, with Mr. William O'Brien, editor of United Ireland, and Bishop Ireland, of Minnesota, on board, was unable to cross the bar at high water this morning on account of the fog, and remained at anchor outside until 6 o'clock in the evening. When this news was communicated to the reception committee, who went early to the Cunard pier to greet the distinguished passenger, they at once notified John H. Starin to procure a steamboat for them that they might go down the bay to accord the welcome. On the arrival of the party at the Umbria the following address was read to Mr. O'Brien:

"NEW YORK, May 9.

"DEAR SIR—On behalf of the Irish-American people of our great city, we welcome you heartily and cordially to New York. You are no stranger in a strange land, for beyond the brief period of your former stay in this country you have found lodgment in our hearts; and we welcome you again and again. We honor you for the years of service which have made your name a household word. Wherever the exiled children of our race are there is the name of William O'Brien respected. When, five years ago, you went down to Mallo, your native town, to stand as the Nationalists' candidate, your success caused dismay to Ireland's enemies and gave a death blow to the rotten borough system, so well adapted to the needy place-men who are ever ready to placate power and worship the golden calf. It is not necessary to follow your parliamentary career.

In the light of the splendid service of the Irish party, no better eulogium is required than to say you performed your whole duty, disregarding every consideration of health and looking to Ireland's welfare alone.

"But perhaps the highest claim you have on our affections is your position as editor of United Ireland in the darkest hours of almost hopeless despair.

The clarion voice of Ireland's greatest journal rang out in thunder-tones the sentiments that made the enemies of the people write 'neath the lash of one who never knew fear. The jury-packer paused in his foul work; partisan judges and every tool of tyranny cowered under the exposure that brought their infamy to light. Oppression and a free press can not co-exist, and the flat went forth that United Ireland must be suppressed and its editor imprisoned. In vain doth the heathen rage, and so, with renewed vigor, you carried on the warfare and tore the mask from the unspeakable orgies of the castle. Moral and political corruption go hand in hand, so, when in God's providence, Ireland shall gain the inestimable boon of self-government, a grateful people will not forget your services in ridding them of a cancerous plague that had cursed Dublin for years.

"And now, sir, in conclusion, we trust the mission you are engaged in will be eminently successful. In it you have our hearty support, and we wish you God-speed in your endeavor to save the people of Ireland from the sentences of death which alien landlords would gladly consign them. Thanks to the National League, the indomitable spirit of our people in Ireland, and to the moral and National aid they obtained here and elsewhere, the battle is progressing gloriously, and the omens of certain victory in the coming time are clear to every discerning mind. We much mistake our brethren in Canada, if you do not receive from them a generous Irish welcome. Already the echo of the sympathies of representative Canadians through their parliament has been heard, and they have spoken with no uncertain words. This warrants us in expecting a renewal of the cordial and sincere expressions of moral support and such evident acts as will give an earnest expression of their friendly feelings to the cause you represent. This we do know, you have the kindest wishes of the Irish-Americans of New York, and we trust you will ever retain pleasant memories of them. You can assure Mr. Parnell and his colleagues of our fullest confidence in them and our determination to continue the struggle until the end shall crown the work in the restoration to Ireland of self-government and the freedom which we Americans justly regard as our dearest and most sacred possessions."

PASSENGER TRAIN WRECKED.

LOCKPORT, N. Y., May 10.—John Mount Pleasant, chief of the Tuscarora Indians, located upon the reservation in the town of Lewiston, Niagara county, died yesterday afternoon, at the age of seventy-seven years. He was chosen chief of this tribe when only seventeen years old, and his administration of its affairs had been complimented for his excellent judgment. His people have been prosperous and happy. He was twice married; his second wife being Catherine Parker, of the Senecas, who was a sister of Gen. Eli Parker, Indian commissioner during a portion of Gen. Grant's administration.

Chief of the Tuscarora Dead.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—The Monon passenger train south of this place about 1 o'clock yesterday morning. The engine went one-third of the way down a thirty-five-foot embankment. Both engine and tender lie wheels up, as they fell. The baggage car was also derailed. Engineer Green was head downward between the engine and tender. He was badly scalded. Fireman Mikell saved himself by jumping. The wreck was caused by a misplaced switch.

The railway officials' claim it was "opened and a stone placed between the rails by some one through malice."

Dreadful Drowning Disaster.

OTTAWA, Ont., May 10.—In the Dominion Methodist church last evening Rev. W. W. Carson, preaching to a congregation of 2,500 persons, touched upon Mr. O'Brien's contemplated visit to Canada: "Freedom," he said, "is only liberty to do right, and that form of so-called freedom which refuses to pay debts and which, under the mask of religion, forms the plan campaign—that is a plan of plunder—is a caricature of the truth. In my conviction the contemplated attack upon his excellency by a professional agitator from across the seas is unjustifiable and so abhorrent that it behoves all good citizens and honest men to condemn it. I would exhort you, however, to refrain from passion and, from violence. Let our protest be such a display of loyal patriotism when his excellency returns as has never before been seen in the capital."

TUESDAY EVENING, MAY 10, 1887.

If an ignorant Justice of the Peace can override the rulings of the Court of Appeals, what's the use of having such a court?

In the eyes of the "senior editor" of our contemporary, the "Republican's vindication" eclipses all things else in the gas controversy.

CORNELLION has been re-jailed, and the good citizens of Mt. Sterling should see that he is kept behind the bars until released by the proper authorities.

Our contemporary, the Republican, the organ of the old gas company, did lots of blowing yesterday over the termination of the gas fight. The old company and its organ may have something to crow over, but the people of Maysville are the big winners by the fight, no matter how it has terminated. Competition may have been shnt out temporarily by the sharp dealing of a few individuals, but the wind has been completely knocked out of the old exorbitant rates. While $1.50 thousand is a little high, still it is not unreasonable and oppressive as the charges in former years were.

The senior editor of the Republican makes the remarkable statement that in the past twenty years he has "advocated every measure that was for the public good." In the same issue, in closing his article on the sale of the new gas company, he says:

"And then $1.50 per thousand to 400 private consumers is better than $2.25 per thousand to only 225 consumers, the number the old company had."

The senior editor fought the new company from the start, and yet its establishment enabled most of these "400 private consumers" to use gas, who, under the old exorbitant rates, were prevented from doing so. The senior editor will have a difficult job in convincing the people that he has always "advocated every measure for the public good."

We ask any one in the city of Maysville to point out a single instance where the senior editor of this paper, in an experience covering twenty years, has not advocated every measure that was for the public good."—Daily Republican.

The senior editor of the Republican is a great man—in his mind. He has not the gift to see himself as others see him. He has advocated and fought for a monopoly in the gas business from the start, and, of course, everybody knows that a monopoly in gas, or anything else, is just what the public cry for. In fact there's nothing does the public so much good—unless it is competition.

Under the exorbitant $3.00-a-thousand rate of the old company many poor people were unable to use gas, and would not be using it now, had not the new company, which was bitterly fought by the senior editor, knocked the bottom out of the price.

THE editor of the EVENING BULLETIN will not reprint any of his able articles on the gas controversy. He might be induced, however, to join a side show and pose as a prophet.—Daily Republican.

No, it's not necessary. Private consumers are assured of gas for about ten years to come at not to exceed $1.50 a thousand, just one-half what they were compelled to pay before the gas fight commenced, and the city will have its public lamps lighted for the same period at $20 a post per annum, just $5 a post less than under the old order of things. Time works wonderful changes, you know, and perhaps at the end of ten years, there will be enough enterprise left to get up another company in case there should be an attempt to return to the old exorbitant rates.

As to that other matter, the editor of the Republican ought to realize that a prophet is without honor in his own country. The editor of the BULLETIN has not gone into the posing business.

Stock and Crops.

During the past ten days, nearly $200,000 worth of horses have been sold at Lexington.

At Lexington, last Saturday, the Elmerdor sale of colts and fillies amounted to $49,930. Forty-two head were sold, averaging $1,189.

A Printer's Error.

Sweet are the uses of adversity, the printer's copy said, but he set it up, sweet are the uses of advertising. Sweet, indeed, to those who in sickness and suffering have seen the advertisement of some sovereign remedy, which upon that trial has brought them from death's door. "The best thing I ever saw in my paper was the advertisement of Dr. Pierce's 'Golden Medical Discovery!'" is again and again the testimony of those who have been healed by it of lung disease, bronchial affections, tumors, ulcers, liver complaints and the ills to which flesh is heir.

Millard Jefferson is again lying quite low, and his wife is also quite poorly. Her babe is only a few days old.

Mr. Mary A. Collins, of Cane Ridge, Bourbon County, mother of Mrs. J. A. Jackson, received a dispatch that her daughter, Mrs. Ed. Grimes, who lives in Maysville, was dangerously ill. Mrs. Collins left on the first train to be at her bed side.

The colored folks had a big time here last Saturday. They called it a May pole. We failed to get the dimensions.

Fashion Notes.

Rubies are decidedly in fashion.

Horsehair bonnets are a novelty.

Wraps for summer wear are rich in jets.

Necklaces are very little worn nowadays.

Lace insertion and ribbon dresses are now very fashionable.

Turbans remain in favor for city, street and for traveling hats.

The fashionable waist is extravagantly long and idiotically tight.

Audacity is the most marked characteristic of the season's millinery.

Crownless bonnets, worn like the old-fashioned head-dress, are favorites.

Scarf mantles, very convenient wraps indeed, are in favor for spring wear.

Light tan-colored gloves of Danish kid are still used with dresses of any color.

White laces are first choice for bridal nosegays, with lilies of the valley a good second.

The perennial Scotch tartan plaids have again made their appearance in good society.

"Nip't in the Bud!"

Sad to say, many a good thing attains to nothing more than a fair beginning. On the other hand it is a matter for congratulation that the growth of some evil things may be also promptly frustrated. A large proportion of the cases of the most wide-spread and fatal of diseases—consumption have their inception in nasal catarrh. Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy is pleasant, soothing and effectual. Try it. It has cured thousands. All druggists.

A Captain's Fortunate Discovery.

Capt. Coleman, schr. Weymouth, plying between Atlantic City and N. Y., had been troubled with a cough so that he was unable to sleep, and was induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption. It not only gave him instant relief, but allayed the extreme soreness in his breast. His children were similarly affected and a single dose had the same happy effect. Dr. King's New Discovery is now the standard remedy in the Coleman household and on board the schooner. Free trial bottles of this standard remedy, at the drug stores of J. C. Pecor & Co., and S. P. Campbell, & Co., of Aberdeen, Ohio.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by J. C. Pecor & Co.

More Victims of the Mine Disaster.

NANMO, B. C., May 10.—Thirty-five more bodies were found to-day. A shovel was found on which was written with chalk: "Thirteen hours and now dying in misery—John Evans." This was a young fellow, twenty-two years of age. Thus the men were evidently conscious thirteen hours after the explosion, and some may have survived five or six hours longer. Most of the bodies recovered had a peaceful look on their faces. The bodies were all found in No. 1 level. They had come as far as the half way switch and found a cave-in and the air bad. They then set to work with picks and shovels and barricaded a passage to shut out the after-damp. They returned to the air shaft where the fire damp had caught them and all succumbed. They had tried to barricade this passage also, but did not succeed very well. The poor fellows had made a desperate struggle for life.

Unclaimed Residue of an Estate.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., May 10.—Attorney General Michener has filed a suit against H. C. Tinney, clerk of Tippecanoe county, to compel him to pay over $1,800 claimed by the state. The money is the unclaimed residue of the estate of Annie Guimp, deceased, and the law provides that such money shall be paid to the state, to be held in trust for future claimants. Mr. Tinney claims that the law only requires him to pay the money to the county treasurer, and that official to the state. He wants to find out to whom he must pay it, so that it may get into court and bring a decision which can be used as a precedent. It is a test case.

That Half Million Dollar Debt.

CHARLESTON, S. C., May 10.—The parties to the romantic story which has been telegraphed broadcast from New Haven, Conn., of the repayment of a debt of honor of nearly $100,000, are well known here. The southern banker and former bookkeeper is George Williams, of the banking firm of Williams & Birney, of this city, and his former employer, to whom he returned the money is Mr. Daniel Hand, who now resides at Guilford, Conn.

Work Resumed After Four Years.

NEW YORK, May 10.—Work has been resumed on the Hudson river tunnel after a four years' suspension. One hundred men are at work. The company having control of the enterprise has been reorganized, and it is said that the tunnel will now be rapidly pushed to completion. It will be used by all railroads which now terminate at Jersey City. Their trains will run through it to a union depot in the vicinity of Washington square, this city.

Suspected Diamond Robber Caught.

CHICAGO, May 10.—A mulatto named Harry Ward, alias "Diamond Harry," who has been under surveillance for several days, was arrested last night. He had just pawned a $1,000 diamond ring for a trifling sum, and had on his person several hundred dollars' worth of other jewelry, supposed to have been stolen. The police suspected Ward of being concerned in recent diamond robberies at Washington, New York and Albany.

Mysterious Mountain Fires.

LAREDO, May 10.—Passengers arriving on the Monterey train report that great fires are raging on the summit of the mountains in many places on both sides of the road. Whether these fires have any connection with the recent earthquake disturbances in Arizona and New Mexico is yet to be determined, as the tops of these mountains are almost inaccessible.

Plending for O'Neill.

NEW YORK, May 10.—The appeal in the case of the convicted Alderman O'Neill will be argued next Thursday, before a general term by Mr. Charles W. Broke for the plaintiff, and Assistant District Attorney Nicoll for the people.

Sent Up for Twenty Years.

MOUNT HOLLY, N. J., May 10.—William R. Agnew, who was convicted of murder in the second degree for the killing of his wife at Palmyra, was to-day sentenced to the state prison at hard labor for twenty years

Little Time for Waiting.

A Cambridge lady was surprised the other day by the information from her cook that she was going to leave in the morning. "But, Mary," her mistress said in surprise and consternation, "what are you going off this way for? What is the trouble?" "Oh, it's no trouble at all, mum," was the reply; "only Pat came over last night and said there was going to be a tie-up on the cars, and that would give him time to get married; so we're going to be married to-morrow night, and I'll be wanting to-morrow to get me things ready and help Pat fix up the rooms we're going to live in." "But you ought to give me time to find another girl," the mistress persisted, although she perceived plainly enough the uselessness of remonstrance. "So I told Pat, mum; but he said there was no telling how long the strike would last, and that if I had to give you warning and wait for you to find another girl he'd look around after another girl himself."—Boston Cor. Providence Journal.

Wallace's Compliments to Whitelaw Reid.

Gen. Lew Wallace as a lecturer on army affairs does not appear to be very highly impressed with the excellent qualities of the war correspondent "a truthful historian." His picture of Whitelaw Reid and his associates at the battle of Pittsburg Landing, after they had done what they could, as he thinks, to misrepresent him, is rather more graphic than complimentary. He was called out of his tent by a motley crew, which had just arrived, on foot, on lean mules or on broken down horses. They had a most pitiful tale to tell. The leader and the spokesman was the man who now heads the staff of The New York Tribune. This devoted company had been guilty, their leader explained, of telling the truth, something that it was not the proper thing to do under martial law, and they had therefore been "bunched" together and told to go. Would he give them something to eat for sweet charity's sake? He did so and they departed. "They were the nearest approach to Falstaff's army that I ever expect to see," said Gen. Wallace, by way of giving a final touch to his description of them.—Buffalo Express.

A Young Artist's Success.

A story is told in art circles of a young American painter who returned from a course of European study with not a cent in his pocket. His ambition was equal to the situation, and he hired a magnificent studio, filled it with choice stuffs and bric a brac, and proceeded to take "fashionable" pupils of the gentler sex, having borrowed his equipment from a "fashionable" house decorator, whose business was "boomed" at the houses of his pupils' parents in return for the loan of the bric a brac and stuffs.—Chicago Times.
